I was first introduced to the product Oxyganic when I was hired as a veterinarian technician at Country Club Animal Clinic. I've seen it used for treatment and as a dietary supplement. My understanding of how this product works is that since it contains water, green algae and other beneficial micro-organisms; it promotes rapid healing on wounds, treats infections when used as a flush and increases the immune system when taken orally. What I like about this product is that it is all natural, contains no harsh chemicals and is an environmentally friendly product. I've seen animals get well or their wounds heal in a shorter time period when using Oxyganic compared to other methods of treatment plus it is a painless solution which is better for the animals. I haven't heard of any other product that has so many benefits and uses so I would definitely recommend this product for veterinary use as well as general health use for people.
