Oxyganic is the best single treatment that I have seen for a broad spectrum of bacterial and fungal infections in a wide variety of animals. I have used it in various bird and reptile species, dogs, cats, ferrets, and other various small mammals. I have used it orally, topically, and even in eyes. It has no side effects! When necessary, it can be used with more conventional therapy, which I have done with infected wounds. It seems to speed the healing of wounds in half the time.
